

Where CURIOSITY HATCHES, Creativity takes Flight and learning SOARS TO A SKY OF opportunity.

End Points: KS 1 Curriculum Area: PSHE
Page 1

The national curriculum is just one element in the education of every child.

At THS we firmly believe that whilst we follow the requirements of the National Curriculum, there is time and space in the school day, each week, term and year to range beyond its specifications. It is during these opportunities that we make our Flying Start curriculum, bespoke to our school, for our specific learners.

As our children work through our curriculum they build towards End Points: these End Points are not just skills based, they are not 'all about curriculum coverage': these End Points are holistic and equitable achievements and aspirations which we strive for, for each and every individual.

Show my independence - Pack my bags for school each day

Make my own packed lunch once a week

Take up a position on the School Council

Take on a monitor role within the classroom

Get changed independently for PE in 5 minutes

Write a letter to a friend/family member to share my news

Develop knowledge of my community by visiting 3 places of historical importance

Join 5 Sports clubs

Complete my morning routine independently

My Attitude of Gratitude is shown everyday by thanking those I live with.

Include a new friend in my games.

Try at least 30 new foods and can talk about them

Learn a new skill
Eq. skipping

Create a journal about my thoughts and feelings

Where CURIOSITY HATCHES, Creativity takes Flight and learning SOARS TO A SKY OF opportunity.

End Points: KS 1 Curriculum Area: PSHE

Page 2

Jump into the water at the swimming pool

Help at home keeping my space tidy

Go to a stream and play Pooh Sticks with an adult

Complete a jigsaw puzzle with at least 250 pieces

Create a picture using only natural items found on a walk

Take a bus ride with an adult

Visit an elderly or lonely neighbour and give them a smile

Teach the class a playground game

Donate an old toy to Charity

Watch the Sunrise

Keep a plant alive by feeding and watering it

Design an Anti-Bullying poster for display

Create a fact file about dangerous substances

Use the Green Cross Code to crossroads safely

The national curriculum is just one element in the education of every child.

At THS we firmly believe that whilst we follow the requirements of the National Curriculum, there is time and space in the school day, each week, term and year to range beyond its specifications. It is during these opportunities that we make our Flying Start curriculum, bespoke to our school, for our specific learners.

As our children work through our curriculum they build towards End Points: these End Points are not just skills based, they are not 'all about curriculum coverage': these End Points are holistic and equitable achievements and aspirations which we strive for, for each and every individual.